

SECOND SEMESTER 2021

This monthly seminar is intended to be a place for exchanging about the ongoing research or scientific publications of researchers affiliated to CEDEJ-Khartoum. In an interdisciplinary approach, this seminar aims to strengthen the links within the scientific community working with the centre (Associated researchers, PhD students), to promote the current works to an audience interested in Social Science Research in Sudan and to facilitate the integration of young researchers into our network.

 Third Thursday of the month from 12:30 pm to 2:00 pm.

 in the CEDEJ-Khartoum Library

Mahassin Yousif, PhD Candidate in History at the EHESS

WORKSHOP: RESEARCH METHODS AND QUESTIONS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES

The aim of this workshop is to share research methods and practices in the social sciences, particularly in Sudan. Visiting researchers at the CEDEJ Khartoum or researchers based in Sudan will share their experiences and methodologies for collecting, organizing, analysing or disseminating field data. They will explain the particularities of conducting researches on social science in Sudan while making the link with their discipline.

WORKSHOP: ANTHROPOLOGICAL READINGS AND FIELDWORKS

Hold by Barbara Casciarri, CNRS invited fellow

This workshop aims to combine the reading of anthropology monographs on Sudan with reflections rooted in fieldwork experiences in Sudan since 1989 up to today. Each session focuses in one major text and aims to tackle various questions, such as the relationship between theory and fieldwork, the contribution of empirical data in the elaboration of analytical categories, the inspiration provided by conceptual frameworks or results of previous works in the setting up of inquiry about one's case study, the tension between ethnography and writing.
